

February 1, 2011

Dear Supporters of DISC,

On June 1-3, 2011, the Diocese of Boise, Idaho will host the 27th annual Diocesan Information Systems Conference \(DISC\) at the Boise Centre conference center in Boise, Idaho. DISC is an organization of information technology professionals working for the Roman Catholic Church throughout the U.S. and Canada. The conference provides these specialized professionals with an opportunity to learn about emerging trends from one another and key speakers while also engaging in a variety of activities which promote spiritual, personal and professional growth.

DISC recognizes you as a valued exhibitor and invites you to reserve exhibit space now. This year, our theme is "Digital Frontiers: Using Technology to Advance Church Ministries". This is an opportunity to meet technology and administrative decision makers representing thousands of Catholic schools and parishes in the United States and Canada. Registration materials are enclosed for the 2011 DISC conference.

An important objective of our conference is to provide ample time and space for consultation between exhibitors and conferees. Each year we evaluate our past conferences and strive to increase member participation, provide new exhibitor opportunities, and upgrade the exhibitor fair venue. We feel that this year's exhibitor fair is one that you will not want to miss. DISC also invites you to share in our social activities, which include networking in the hospitality room and attendance at our planned optional outings.

Through sponsorship of DISC conference activities your organization will be afforded additional opportunities to highlight your products and services to this national audience. All sponsors will be recognized at the events that they support. We have enclosed a list of additional sponsorship possibilities at varying levels of cost.

You will receive a follow up in the near future to discuss any ideas you may have regarding your support of the conference. If you have any questions please let us know. We are happy to service you at any time and look forward to seeing you at the conference.

Sincerely,
